

---

Representation of universities

---

It is possible to regularly follow the development of major issues concerning universities and to be informed about the contextual state of higher education from the enrolment of organs representing students and teachers.