

Doctoral Study Hub

The Doctoral Study Hub is a platform for all doctoral candidates that gives you access to courses, seminars and workshops. The aim of this platform is to help to develop your scientific career and provide information for completing your dissertation.

The courses offered support the development of the core competences defined in the European Competence Framework for Researchers . It is a tool for assessing and developing transferable skills of researchers and supporting their career development.

The Competence Framework divides skills into 7 core areas:

	Managing research		Working with others
	Making an impact		Managing research tools
	Self-management		Doing research
	Cognitive abilities

Courses for doctoral candidates

For a full list of events and courses, please see the Calendar of Events and Courses for Doctoral Candidates or the Educational Portal .

MOODLE Courses

For PhD candidates, ONLINE COURSES are also offered in Moodle, where you can choose from a wide range of courses in English.

You can find offer from several course providers in one place. The individual faculties also provide suitable courses for doctoral candidates; the offer above is intended to be complementary to these activities.

We hope you find the offer a suitable enrichment in your studies.
If you have a tip on a topic that you do not find in the current portfolio, please email phd@cuni.cz .

We are looking forward to your feedback!
