

---

Open Science

---

Open Science Support Centre is a department of the Central Library of Charles University that is dedicated to the topic of open science.

The Centre offers central methodological support in the field of open access and research data management. Namely:

- Selecting an appropriate open access journal or repository
- Examining a potential predatory journal or publisher
- Managing research data before, during and after a research project
- Assisting with choosing an appropriate data repository

For more information, visit the Open Science Support Centre website.
Should you have any questions, contact us at openscience@cuni.cz

Leaflets on open access discounts and vouchers for Charles University's authors